CONFERENCE OF PREMIERS WILL BE IMPORTANT

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—The importance of the conference of the provincial premiers and ministers with the members of the Dominion ministry next week has been enhanced by the arrival of peace. When the conference was first mooted, the general expectation was that the war would not be over until the spring months at the earliest and that there would be some time for deliberation and action. The signing of the armistice and the practical certainty that there will be no renewal of hostilities necessitate prompt and decisive action on the part of the Dominion and provincial governments in their respective spheres as well as in connection with matters where the best results will be produced by co-operative action.

The agenda of the conference has not yet been definitely decided upon, but it will be considered by the federal ministers this week and a definite plan marked out for the deliberations of next week. It will cover the whole scope of reconstruction effort and national development with special regard to the efforts to be made to meet the changed industrial situation. This is even more urgent than the matter of demobilization because a few months may elapse before there is a heavy movement of the overseas fighters toward Canada.

It is expected that problems affecting agriculture will be less troublesome, because the need for greater food production is already well established. With increased production, however, the soldier land settlement policy of the country is closely related and pretty definite conclusions as to the policy to be adopted will doubtless be reached at the conference next week.

A tentative land policy, involving close cooperation between the provinces and the Dominion has been worked out and will be fully discussed at the coming conference.

Local and General.

The drillers working at the town well struck water on Wednesday night and a flow obtained of from six to seven gallons per minute. At a special meeting of the Town Council last Thursday evening it was decided to instruct the drillers to go down another hundred feet with a view to the possibility of getting a still bigger flow. This decision later on, however, was abandoned. The present flow, although not large will "prove extremely useful if properly conserved."

The Canada Food Board is urging that people get in their potatoes and root vegetables for the winter before the cold weather makes their transportation difficult and expensive.

Minor Theodore Olson of Winnipeg died at the How Island hospital on Tuesday night from pneumonia following an attack of influenza. The funeral took place today (Friday) at Winnipeg, Rev. S. R. T. was officiating. The deceased was a farmer living near Winnipeg, his parents residing near the Good Cheer schoolhouse.

Messrs. Geo. Lomas, W. D. Anderson, C. T. MacKinnon, W. J. Elliott and Major Snell of Burdett were among those who attended the funeral of the late Mrs. J. H. Patterson on Thursday.

A bona fide farmer who has grown wheat himself may have 200 pounds of wheat flour in his possession, or enough for ordinary household requirements of 200 days, and so any consumer who lives at a greater distance than five miles from his regular licensed miller or dealer. All others are now limited to 100 pounds or 90 days' supply at any one time, except those householders cut off from civilization by the close of navigation. These people may also have the limit of 200 days' ordinary supply of flour and of sugar likewise.

Mr. L. R. Oakes, of Schuler, Alta., kindly furnishes the News with a suggestion for the cure of pneumonia which he has tried successfully and hopes it will be the means of helping some sufferers from the malady. The writer says:

"Take six to ten onions, according to size and chop fine. Put in a large pan over a hot fire, then add about the same quantity of dry meal and trumper enough to make it a thick paste. Stir thoroughly, letting it simmer five or ten minutes, then put in a cotton bag large enough to cover the lungs, and apply it to the chest as hot as the patient can bear. When it gets cool apply another, and thus continue by re-heating the poultice. In a few hours the patient will be out of danger. Usually three or four applications will be sufficient, but continue always until perspiration starts freely from the chest."

This simple remedy was formulated many years ago by one of the best physicians New England has ever known, who never lost a patient by this disease.—New York Sun.

Messrs. T. H. Walker and J. D. Macmillan of Foremost have shipped from the south country during the last few months 500 head of cattle and 4000 sheep.

Saturday night closes the Victory Loan campaign. Take advantage of the short time yet remaining and seize the privilege of buying more bonds. Peace has been declared and we hope the boys will soon be coming home. You will wave a flag with the greatest zest knowing that you have done your duty in subscribing to the Victory Loan. The total credited to the How Island district now amounts to about $90,000, entitling it to a flag and two crowns. Names of recent subscribers will be announced in next week's issue.

Mrs. Wm. Larsen of Gipsy Lake died on Friday of last week from pneumonia following an attack of influenza. The funeral took place on Monday at eleven a.m.

Mrs. O. F. Ridgdale and Alf. Hobson are at Vancouver where they were called by the sudden death of their sister, Mrs. U. Minson. Mrs. Ridgdale's mother was also taken ill but a recent report states she is recovering.

Mr. Geo. Murray of Whittier, who was on Alec died from the prevailing epidemic this week, has together with his wife contracted influenza and been admitted to the hospital at Medicine Hat.

Rev. G. Herring was called to Medicine Hat on Thursday to officiate at the funeral of Rev. Harding, whose death took place this week following an attack of influenza.

It is pleasant to hear that the number of cases of influenza at the hospital established here in town have been sensibly diminished by four or five being discharged. Reports handed in by the quarantine officers appointed for the country districts on the other hand appear to indicate an increase. Many of these new cases it is quite evident are of people who have succumbed to the epidemic through the sheer carelessness of others. If everyone realized the danger of mixing too freely with their neighbors and were only to adopt strict precautions for a time it is the general opinion that the epidemic could be stamped out within a very short time. We all realize and understand that the present epidemic is forcing measures which are somewhat irksome, but as these measures have to be borne by all alike it is not only our duty but common sense itself suggests that for our own safety we should assist the health officers in every way possible. Discourage visitors just now and report every case where those who have contact with the disease are contravening the regulations. Thus only can you safeguard your own safety and the epidemic be fought successfully.

DRYS CLAIM U. S. FOR PROHIBITION

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—World peace did not come soon enough to permit European nations to be generally represented at a conference of dry leaders for world-wide prohibition which convenes here Nov. 15, for four days hereinafter. However, it is announced that representatives from France, England, Switzerland and South America are now on the way.

Plans for carrying on the prohibition fight in foreign countries probably will be formulated. National prohibition leaders say the United States will go by dry next June. They say recent elections insure ratification of the federal prohibition amendment by 28 states, two more than is necessary.

HOOVER GOES TO FEED EUROPE

Washington, Nov. 14.—Food Administrator Hoover will sail for Europe on the White Star liner Olympic probably on Saturday, it was learned at the food administration today. He goes at President Wilson's request to direct the work of feeding the starving peoples of war-torn Europe. Owing to the lifting of the naval censorship, this is the first time since the war broke out that the name of a ship on which American or other officials sailed or planned to sail for Europe has been permitted to be published. On the Olympic sail, it is understood, will be Dr. Masarik, president of the Czechoslovak republic, who is returning to his liberated country.

Jack Canuck—Storekeeper

IN Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta Jack Canuck is running an immense produce business these days.

He has millions of bushels of grain; boat loads of flour; vast herds of cattle, sheep and pigs; butter, cheese and poultry and other food supplies by the trainload.

The customers at his counter are Great Britain, France and Italy, whose credit is unquestionable, but who are just now short of cash. So Jack Canuck in order to sell his goods must give his customers credit until the war is won.

It is just the same situation that confronts every storekeeper who gives farmers credit until their crops are harvested.

So Jack Canuck borrows money on Victory Bonds in order to give credit to his customers.

He pays good interest on Victory Bonds. He offers as security all Canada and everything contained therein.

By issuing Victory Bonds Jack Canuck keeps his big business going—and all the money he borrows from Canadians he spends in Canada.

We must buy Victory Bonds in order that the business of Jack Canuck shall remain prosperous and healthy.

We must buy Victory Bonds in order that our brave and gallant army shall have food, clothing and ammunition to win complete Victory over the enemies of our country.

How Many Crowns for Your Honor Flag?

Of course every city, town and district will earn its Honor Flag.

But how about the crowns?

For every twenty-five per cent. in excess of its quota, each city, town and district will be entitled to add a crown to its flag.

Can you do fifty per cent. better than your quota—that means two crowns for your Honor Flag.

But double your quota and it means four crowns.

Hang a Flag in your hall, that for years to come will show that your city, town or district did better than well—

That it was a real factor in the huge success of CANADA'S VICTORY LOAN 1918.

KAISER MUST CHOKE ON HIS WORDS OF PAST

Boastfulness of the War Maker Recalled—Some of His Bombastic Utterances

London, Nov. 12.—(British wireless service)—Prominence is given by the British newspapers to some of the utterances made by former Emperor William, while the war was in progress. "In the year 1914, he said:

"Before the leaves fall from the trees we shall be back again in the dear fatherland. Exterminate first the treacherous French and walk over Gen. French's contemptible little army. The war-like spirit still lives in the German people—that powerful spirit which attacks the enemy wherever it finds him, regardless of the cost.

"You, my troops are my guarantee that I can dictate peace to my enemies. Up and at the feet! God's goodness will guide the German people through battle to victory—to the goal appointed for the German people by Providence. I have drawn the sword, which, without victory and without honor, I can not sheathe again. We stand with our hearts toward God—to the fight with all the enemies of Germany. Amen."

many. Amen."

In 1915 the German ruler said:

"Our brave soldiers have shown themselves to be invincible in battle against nearly the whole world. The war drama is now coming to its close."

To the King of the Romans he said:

"Our common enemies, whom Allah will annihilate to the last man, shall lie before you. So be it."

Regarding the United States, the emperor declared:

"America had better look out after the war. I shall stand no nonsense from the Americans. My destructive sword has crushed the Russians. In a short while I will announce new victories. The war drama is now coming to a close. In a just case I am ready to force myself to be cruel."

In 1916 the emperor said:

"The world was prepared for anything but a victory by the German fleet over the British fleet. Fear will creep into the bones of the enemy."

"Bacharach has been taken. What a magnificent success on the road to complete victory has been gained with God's help!"

"Germany is invincible in spite of the super numbers of our enemies and every day confirms this anew. Germany knows her strength and she relies on God's help. The foe is defending his soil foot by foot. This is the resistance of despair, but it must be broken. He has prepared his soup and now he must sup it. I look to you to see to it."

"A German contemner with pride her brave sons whose deeds with God's help will be a landmark on the road to final victory."

Burdett.

The influenza is still with us but is treated with due consideration, for our cases in town are confined to the Henderson family and in the country the cases, though somewhat numerous, are very mild.

We have to wait our make these days, for the Rev. Fred A. Hutchings our A.P.P. man, is enforcing the order.

The Burdett Hotel has been kindly placed at the disposal of the local health authorities by the proprietor, Mr. E. Brown, and the people of Burdett and the district contiguous are thankful indeed for the privileges which the Hotel affords as a hospital for our sick. Miss M. Hennessey and Mrs. Yew are in charge and the patients are making rapid progress under their care.

The local Red Cross Society under the Presidency of Mrs. A. W. Fletcher is making supplies for the local "Flu" Hospital.

Rev. Fred A. Hutchings, wishes to thank those who have so generously given their aid, in the effort to control the outbreak of Spanish influenza and would be greatly assisted in his work if some others would do their "bit."

Our "space celebration" was a "fizzle" only a few peatook and they got pinched.

Don't forget to wear our mask.

Dr. Gershaw of Medicine Hat visited the hospital on Tuesday night and was well pleased with the arrangements there.

We are glad to report that Nurse Henderson is improving and her condition is not nearly as serious as it was formerly.

Mr. Roy Kirk is in bed suffering from rheumatism.

In 1917 the head of the German nation said:

"If the enemy does not want peace then we must bring peace by battering in with iron fist and shining sword the doors of those who will not have peace."

"Victory in the coming year will again be on our side and on that of our allies. If only we cast the burden on the Lord he will smite the foe hip and thigh as he did Amalek, the prototype of perdition England."

"Our Uboats are not going to rest until with God's help the enemy is beaten. With the help of God, who has hitherto graciously protected us, the enemy shall have a decision. England is particularly the enemy to be struck down, however difficult it may be."

"The year 1917 with its great battles has proved that the German people has in the Lord of creation above an unconditional and avowed ally on whom it can absolutely rely."

In June, 1918, the emperor said: "God, the Lord, has laid a heavy burden on my shoulders, but I can carry it in the conscientiousness of our good fight with confidence in our sharp sword and our strength."

This was followed by various utterances of growing despondency.

MEN BEFORE THEIR TIME

Four years ago, when prophets held that three years, at the most, would see the war through, boys born in 1900 were not inclined to take a very near view of their chance of service. The overture of the world seemed rather fine to live amidst, at one remove, but still outside themselves. Elder brothers on service were enviable fellows: "as such luck for you youngsters." It would be all over before we could be of military age. Spectators they expected to remain, but there came a day when the boys realized that he might "get a look in" after all. The blank of everyday school work took a new meaning. It became a foreboding of a possible reality. And with that conviction came a gradual change, curious to parents and guardians to watch. Not that the boy ceased to be a boy in all outward essentials, but something different had been added—a hint of gravity, an increase of common sense, an interest in public affairs that used not to develop very strongly until the university was reached, a general impression of rapid ripening. The burden of life and of the nation had been laid upon him; he was taking it up, not grudgingly, or in any burdened way, but with seriousness, the seriousness with which he plays games, where one must be wholehearted or fail. The new time brought new interests, and above all he looked to the air; his head was in the clouds, and in a very practical manner. It is the boy who has seen the severity of the proverbially humorous. He has decided, not perhaps consciously, that the pilot of victory is the sky pilot (in no irreverent sense of slang), and he brings to the work aptitudes and qualities denied to older men. It is the "Great Shift." He takes it as his birth right, the same holds true of the traditional arms of the service. To his father the boy's sudden leap to manhood has been a revelation somewhat disconcerting. What his mother thinks of it has not been told. It seems but yesterday that he was an infant. In a few weeks more his control will have claimed what. Whatever natural misgivings parents may have, and these cannot be denied, even from the most willing sacrifice—to the boy the day of his coming is a day of joy. For many months at least, he has felt sure that he would not be left outside the great adventure. The thoughts of those months have brought him quick maturity. He counts the days that will bring around 18, and, if luck nerve, wings!

But if the father had something of a shock when he discovered that the years of war had stolen away his boy's infancy, he has compensation, deep and wonderful, in the man thus suddenly set before him. For in twilight talks it is indeed a man that now sits beside him, a man with all the freshness and charm of boyhood still unshed, more gracious perhaps and winning by his whimsical contrast with the new strange gravity of certain moods. It lightens the brooding shadow of uncertain fate, which to the elder will not be denied; it purges of everything morbid that is inevitable misgiving. The body accepts the fortunes of war—gladly. These last years have been crowded with perilous life; he looks only for something more glorious. And thus who remain behind have a priceless possession—a remnant of good and evil fortune. For, let the event be what it may, there cannot now be any sense of utter incompleteness in that young life. The boy may have ripened before his time, as men accounted time in the sleek days of peace, but nature of Providence has spared him unhealthily precociously, and has vouchsafed a glimpse, and more than a glimpse, of a man, waited for, wondered over with a myriad tender thoughts, and now, on a day we looked not for it, suddenly revealed in full. That the day is so that the eternal law of compensation had ordained any fore-provision of a character that might otherwise have remained only a fond speculation. But here is a startling measure of certainty: it is a man that will go forth to war; it is a man—not merely dreamed of by one whom we have seen and known—that will receive our parting blessing. ## DEATH OF MRS. J. H. PATERSON.

The death of Mrs. J. H. Paterson which took place at her residence in Bow Island on Sunday afternoon of the 10th inst., was a big shock to her many friends and cast a gloom over the entire town. For the husband especially it was an exceptionally heavy blow, all the more realized perhaps when one remembers the extremely close and affectionate tie that existed between husband and wife.

Mrs. Paterson's death followed a severe attack of influenza. She apparently first contracted the malady on the Sunday previous to her death, but after a few days confined to her room she recovered sufficiently to leave around. On Thursday, however, grave symptoms were noticed and again taking to her bed she gradually got worse, and although everything that was humanly possible was done for her, yet her weakened state was not sufficient to enable her to withstand the additional attack and she eventually succumbed.

In Bow Island where her interest in local affairs has been so keen and her hospitality and ever-ready assistance to different organizations was proverbial her loss was instantaneously felt and fully realized. To her husband especially the heart of the entire community went out in a spontaneous burst of sympathy.

Mrs. Paterson was born at Port Dalhousie, Ont., and was in her twenty-eight year when she passed away. She was married to Dr. Paterson on December 30, 1914, and returned with him to reside at Bow Island. Since that time her sunny disposition and unassuming manners, coupled with the energy she invariably imparted to the different organizations of which she was a member, made her extremely welcome wherever she went. To her husband she was a real helpmate and in his arduous work of a consulting physician she was always ready with kind acts and Christianlike sympathy to alleviate to the utmost of her power the suffering of which she was so often a witness.

The funeral took place on Thursday morning at eleven o'clock, the cortege starting from the Hurst undertaking parlor and proceeding to All Saints' Church, where the officiating clergyman, Rev. G. Herring, was assisted by the Rev. V. M. Gilbert of the United Church. After a short service the procession returned and passed on to the local cemetery where interment took place.

In addition to the bereaved husband J. H. Paterson, the immediate relatives present were Mrs. W. R. Reid, the mother of deceased, Dr. H. R. Reid, a brother of latter City, Ont., and Dr. Paterson's brother Robert of Luskland, Sask., the two latter arriving the day previous to the funeral.

Other and surviving relatives of the deceased include two sisters, Mrs. R. A. S. MacLaren, of Weston, Man., and Mrs. A. D. Broutinick, of St. Catharines, Ont., and two brothers, George and Ernest Reid, who reside at Luskland. The deceased was the youngest of the family.

The floral offerings made at the funeral were as follows:—
Crosses—Dr. and Mrs. Baines, Bow Island branch of the Red Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Cotton, ladies of All Saints' church.

Wreaths—Catholic Altar Society, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Munda, M.W.A. Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Clara Hoaglin, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beattie, F. W. Brown, Margaret and Bob, Bow Island Municipality and Golden Link (Robt.) Lodge.

Decorations—Mrs. G. F. Ridgeway, Mrs. F. Stophy, Mrs. T. R. Blaine, Mrs. G. C. Baker, Mrs. L. A. Ogilvie, Mrs. F. W. Brown.

The Bank will trust you

Perhaps you never had an account in a bank—maybe you've never done business in a bank—hardly even cashed a cheque in one. But—that is no reason why you cannot go to a bank and borrow money to buy Victory Bonds.

If you are a steady, industrious, thrifty citizen, working and saving a part of your income, you are just the kind of person Canada's chartered banks stand ready to help to-day.

Any bank will lend you as much money as you can save during the next twelve months, with which to buy Victory Bonds.

All you have to do is to pay ten per cent. of the amount you want to buy and deposit the receipt for that ten per cent. in the bank.

The bank will lend you the 90 per cent. balance at 5½ per cent. interest and will give you a year to repay it, the interest you get on your bond being just the same as the bank charges you.

This is a fine opportunity for you to begin a real savings account, to make a first class investment and to help your country at the same time.

Why not see a banker to-day—he will tell you all about it and you will be glad of the advice and help he can give you.

SIBERIAN FORCE CLOTHED TO SLEEP IN A SNOW BANK

Officers and Men Will Look More Like Eastern Lumber Jacks, Than Soldiers

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—(By W. E. Playfair, correspondent of the Canadian Press, Limited).—Never has a military force been arrayed as the Canadian Siberian expedition will be on its winter campaign out of Vladivostok. In full winter kit, as issued by the authorities to these 20th century argonauts, officers and men alike will look more like eastern lumberjacks than soldiers; but they will be warm and that is the important fact in a climate perhaps more rigorous than that of the northern prairies.

It is a novel feature of this expedition that winter kit has been issued to officers as well as to men and there is not much difference in the garments handed out to the various ranks. Warmth and utility are the main characteristics. Caparisoned in full kit, the Canadians in Siberia might easily sleep in a snow bank.

Some items are included in the official issue. The indent runs something like this:

Sleeping bag, long coat lined with sheepskin, mackinaw coat, fur cap (muskkrat), sleeping toque, heavy sweater, woolen shirt, two snow gaiters, two pairs woolen socks, Klondyke socks, moccasins, sheepskins, woolen muffer.

In their sheepskin coat with turned up collar and fur cap with the earflaps turned down, the Siberian campaigners will look decidedly like the picture of Arctic explorers nearing the pole.
